CULTURE SHIFT

DOAR wanted to provide a modern work environment that encourages collaboration and creativity. Many of their employees were used to working in private offices or cubicles, so they chose to provide quiet spaces as well as social spaces for casual meetings.

WHITE + BRIGHT

The employees spend most of their days working on complex legal matters, so they needed a space that felt fresh and airy. White desks and light blue lounge pieces help create a workspace that feels calm and promotes focus.

WARM RECEPTION

A requisite of the redesign was a reception space that felt welcoming and professional while reflecting DOAR's culture shift. By making reception comfortable and casual, they set the tone for their client's experience with their brand.
